

Call for Applications

The Frankfurt Foundation for Children with Cancer launches the

Dr. Maresch-Klingelhöffer Research Award 2026

to honor an outstanding scientific publication authored by young researchers (up to 40 years of age) in the field of experimental pediatric oncology and hematology.

The award is presented for scientific papers published or accepted for publication in the years from 2024 to 2026. Several authors of a publication may submit a joint application. If only one of several authors of a publication submits an application, it must be made clear which author is applying for the award. At the time of application, the applicant must be working in a German-speaking country. It also has to be confirmed that the co-authors agree with the application.

The award is endowed with € 5,000 and may be used by the awardee to finance his/her research activity.

Please submit your application (scientific paper, CV and list of publications) electronically in a single PDF (maximum size 10 MB) by May 29, 2026, to c.hugenberg@kinderkrebsstiftung-frankfurt.de

The award ceremony will take place in November 2026 in Frankfurt am Main.
